

ELECTIONS AROUND THE CORNER

Primary election day in California is next Tuesday, June 5, but many of us vote earlier by mail to save the trouble of going to the voting locations in person. I do that, I confess, because it's inconvenient to leave work and go somewhere to vote. I guess I'm just too lazy.

But now I'm standing here, left hand on hip, right hand pointing at myself and lecturing at me, "Listen, idiot, California is in big trouble, and maybe goners, so if there's any hope to save it, it has to be now. So let's not take this voting business lightly!"

Under the current Looney-Leftist supermajority in Sacramento, evil laws are being passed and signed daily. One of the worst, which I don't believe has been signed yet, is AB2943, which makes it illegal to give counselling that might help a gender-confused person straighten out their lives. Also, it is being labelled fraudulent to sell materials or books that are meant to help people who wish to "change back" to the sexual orientation of their birth. David French of "National Review" writes:

Wait. What? "Sexual orientation change efforts" are in the same category as consumer fraud? So, what is a sexual-orientation-change effort? According to the bill, it means "any practices that seek to change an individual's sexual orientation. This includes efforts to change behaviors or gender expressions, or to eliminate or reduce sexual or romantic attractions or feelings toward individuals of the same sex."

This bill deprives certain people of their right to govern their own lives and seek whatever help they need, just to push the agenda of depraved politicians in the name of protecting the "rights" of a small subgroup of people. And in fact, once this law takes effect (God help us), this little commentary will be illegal! Can you believe it??

Also coming out of Sacramento are numerous bills depriving us of our Second Amendment rights. They regulate ammunition; impose background checks and convoluted procedures that effectively make it near impossible to own, use, and maintain guns; and make end runs around our Constitutional freedoms. One of the fundamental motivations of our Founders in arming the citizens is so we can protect ourselves from the very tyranny we are experiencing here in the once Golden State!

Thus our current election becomes more critical than ever, unless it's just too late to fix or even improve the situation here. A few years ago, Leftists pulled another fast one on us and won a ballot initiative that places on the ballot only the top two vote-getters in a primary election. It may have sounded harmless, but since we are so completely ruled by the evil Left, there is a great probability that the top two names on the state ballot will be Leftist Democrats, since Republicans aren't even smart enough to run just one strong candidate per race who would not split our vote.

This year, to the Left's surprise, a Republican, John Cox, who is running for governor, has pulled into a tie for second place in the governor's race. The Leftists cannot stand the thought that we might have a shot at restoring California to some kind of sensibility, so they have mounted a campaign to smear John Cox. It's aimed at us Normals, aka Republicans, for the most part.

They are using their standard tactics of fake news and outright lies, running dishonest ads and making slanderous allegations in a calling campaign aimed at Mr. Cox's potential supporters. Their goal is to split the Republican vote so that many Republicans vote for Travis Allen, another decent candidate. If they succeed in suckering enough of us, neither Cox nor Allen will have enough votes to qualify for the ballot in November. We will be faced with the choice of voting for two Leftist wackos of the worst sort. In that case, I personally will abstain from voting for governor, because there is no "better" candidate.

Please don't fall for the lies and deceit of these people who are ruining our state and forcing their immoral, perverted sexual agendas television. He also has a voter guide on his site to help make decisions.

Both of these websites, and there are others, follow the issues at all times, whether it's election time or not. In fact,

they do such a good job

that I sometimes want to unsubscribe from their newsletters because what they describe is too painful to face. It's hard to see our beautiful state being taken over by Leftist-socialist-God haters who, in the name of their rights and "superior" thinking, are depriving us Normals of our rights and God-centered thinking, as if they could ever do that!

Please do the right thing and vote your conscience. You can't help but know that we are in trouble here. Many of our neighbors have fled the state for better locales. Maybe, by God's miracle, we who remain can restore that fundamental good sense and American values to our ailing state.

God Willing!!!
Pray!!!

your decisions. One of the best is www.CraigHuey.com. Mr. Huey takes the time and trouble to study the propositions and candidates for each locality in Southern California, down to judges and other bottom-ballot items. Huey does this from the perspective of a Believer, using his Christian faith as a guide.

Another excellent website that is watchdogging God-awful laws and regulations coming out of California is <http://savecalifornia.com/>. This site is run by Randy Thomasson, another man of faith, who is bringing attention to the horrendous things happening in this state by appearing on talk shows and getting interviewed on national
